ZOOM

Assalamualaikum and Good Day to everyone.

Today, 14th October 2021 marks the World Standards Day. The theme for this year is Shared Vision for A Better World.

On this occasion of World Standards Day, let us continue to promote the role of international standardization and fulfil the needs of our stakeholders, strategic partners, consumers, government, industry, and business worldwide. I would also like to take this opportunity to thank everyone involved in ensuring Standards Malaysia successfully being elected as the ISO Council Member for 2022-2024.

Standards Malaysia is both the National Standards Body and the National Accreditation Body with the key roles of promulgating and promoting standards and accreditation as a means of advancing the economy, promoting industrial efficiency and development, facilitating trade, furthering international cooperation, protecting the consumers and ensuring health benefits, safety and welfare of the public. With this in mind, let us all work together to raise awareness on these responsibilities.

We need to move forward with innovative spirit and turn challenges to opportunities that will propel us further in our efforts to contribute to sustainable development and in particular to health and safety, and environment and trade.

Happy World Standards Day!

Thank you!
